Important announcement about oil trading

Dear clients,

We inform you that Investiciono društvo Limit Prime Securities AD Podgorica will for the following product:

oil (USOIL_Roll)

Today, July 17, 2023 to perform a rollover, that is, a transition from an old to a new futures contract (but within the same symbol) because the old futures contract expires.

At the same time, if there is a price difference between the old and the new contract, which will be seen through profit/loss, the client will be compensated/deducted (through a charge) so that the final balance (Equity) will remain the same.

Positions do not need to be closed and there will be no opening of a new symbol, because everything will be realized within the same symbol.

Trading with these symbols continues in the same way and under the same conditions, there will be no interruption. Likewise, the Company does not charge commissions or rollover fees.

All trading conditions are available on the platform.
